LIBRARY LOOKS FOR MONEY FOR BOOKS, ADDITION

"If we want more books we've got to get some more money," L. S. Long, finance committee chairman, told the members of the board of directors of the Adams County Free Library Association at their July meeting Friday evening at the main library on E. High St.

Long pointed out that the $2,000 book buying budget for 1954 already has been exceeded by over $300 and then Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, librarian, told the directors that not less than $100 a month must be spent for current adult books "if we are to give the people the service they have learned to expect from the library."

After considerable discussion, the board took a middle course between two proposals. Book buying to the extent of $600 was authorized up to September 1 with a fall money-raising campaign in the county being counted upon for some needed cash.

Budget Money For Books Is Gone

The directors' compromise found accord between two opinions: First, that the board go ahead with book buying to meet adult needs and to bolster the short supply of children's books and second, that book buying be suspended until funds are on hand.

The decision on new books came after the board had examined a financial statement covering the first six months of the year showing total expenditures so far of $7,662 out of receipts that are estimated to total $12,668 for the year. "There's not another cent in the budget for books," Mr. Long declared, as he pointed out that if that limit is observed the library will stay within its budget for the year.

In addition to the need for more books, the library is faced with the problem of finding an estimated $5,000 to pay for a garage and stack room annex to the main library building, plans for which are now being prepared by a York architect.

Dedicate Bookmobile Sept. 8

The garage is to house the new bookmobile being donated by the Mussemann Foundation. Delivery is expected by August 1 with dedication set for September 8 at the South Mountain Fair.

Plans for the dedication were reported on by Dean Asquith, chairman of a special committee in (Continued on Page 3)

A musical program was presented and a purse was given to the couple who will leave soon for a new tour of duty in South America.

The Hammers have been in this country for the last year and have been residing at the Lutheran Missionary House on Springs Ave. As soon as they receive their permanent residence visas they will leave for Uruguay where the Rev. Mr. Hammer will be in charge of work for the Lutheran Committee on Cooperation in Latin America under the National Lutheran Council with offices in Montevideo.

"Prospecting" Is Undertaken Again In Stone Jug, Hunterstown Areas

The one-time "copper mining belt" of the county—from Stone Jug to the Hunterstown area—continues to attract prospectors who believe there may possibly be sufficient mineral content there to warrant mining now.

A Carlisle company, the Ridge Creek Gas and Oil Co., is the latest to investigate the area. B. H. Snyder, president of the concern, and E. M. Gutshall, its secretary-treasurer, have secured a number of leases which permit them to make core-drillings and other investigations and which will permit them to remove the mineral content of the farms involved if sufficient quantity of materials is found to warrant mining.

Copper, tin and similar materials which once were mined back around the turn of the century in the section are being sought by the men, they told persons on whose farms they have carried out drilling operations.

JAP BEETLES "ABUNDANT"

Japanese beetles are "fairly abundant" and can defoliate cherry trees if not controlled, County Farm Agent Frank S. Zettie said today in calling for a post harvest spray in the cherry orchards.

He added that the fungus causing leaf spot is still active and that the post harvest spray "is one of the most important for prevention of leaf spot this year."

The spray should contain, in dilute solutions, two pounds of copper sulphate, six pounds of fresh spray lime and two pounds of a 50 per cent DDT wettable powder per 100 gallons of spray. For concentrate spraying the amounts of the materials should be tripled per 100 gallons.

Zettie warned that the interval between the last spray before harvest and the post-harvest spray should not exceed three weeks and if it appears that the period will exceed that length of time a spray similar to the pre-harvest spray should be placed.

Board Examines 167 Scouts' Camp Records

COUNTIANS GAVE $9,049 IN MARCH OF DIMES HERE

Donations to the 1954 "March of Dimes" totaled $9,049.79, Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, president of the Adams County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced today.

The amount was a new record for contributions by the county to the fund, she said. At the same time she added that the total of $3,479.70 donated through mailing cards sent owners of autos marked a new all-time high for contributions received from that source.

As a comparison with prior years, total contributions to the county Infantile Paralysis group in 1953 totaled $8,300.

Need of funds for the test of new anti-polio vaccines this year, to determine whether they will do the job of making polio a thing no longer to be feared, was believed to be a contributing reason for the increased donations. Better recognition on the part of the public of the need for long time care of persons suffering from the disease also is believed to have helped swell the amounts donated.

A committee comprising Mrs. H. B. Raffensperger, as chairman, Mrs. Arnold E. Orner, Mrs. Cameron Hoffman, Miss Charlotte Hartzell and Mrs. W. A. Raffensperger, raised $230.43 for the fund in Arendtsville. Bendersville residents, solicited by a committee headed by Mrs. Truman Eyer, gave $246.05. Biglerville, (Continued on Page 8)

Crosby N. Hartzell, chief observer for the Ground Observation Corps in Adams County, today urged all spotters to fill their assigned periods during July, and asked additional volunteers to fill vacant periods, "to permit the county to give a good showing during 'Operation Check-point' this month."

The Air Force plans to send planes throughout the nation during the month, at times not announced, to determine the efficiency of the nation's airplane spotter system.

The test follows a similar test held a short time ago in which the air force announced the days during which its planes would be flying over the stations.

Badly Beaten Girl Tells Of Brutalities

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A little girl, her thrice-broken left arm still in a cast, her lips misshapen and her front teeth missing, says that for two years she was beaten by her mother and stepfather.

Although stunted by malnutrition, crippled by three broken vertebrae and partly blind, Celia Sanchez, 9, told her graphic story calmly.

Already on trial for mayhem, felonious assault and assault with a deadly weapon is Mrs. Trinidad Sanchez Vera, 28, the mother. And after Celia testified, the stepfather was arrested.

Joe Cruz Vera, 43, was jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond on four counts of felonious assault and one of child molestation. He had testified the day before blaming the beatings on his wife and saying he was afraid to tell authorities because he had served a prison term for criminal assault.

Knifed In Back

At times as Celia told her story, spectators arose and left the courtroom. She told of her arms being twisted until they broke and then twisted again; of being hit with shoes, forks and knives until she bled; of being forced to eat hot chili peppers; of having her hands held under scalding water.

First she told of beatings she said were given by her mother. Then she said of her stepfather:

"He threw a knife at me once. It landed in my back. Another time he threw a knife at me and it cut my lip."

She testified he once broke her arm by stomping on it, injured her spine with a stick, slapped and beat her.

When the child's plight was discovered last April 27, the mother was arrested and Celia hospitalized for extensive treatments.

FR. JOHNSON, TOWN NATIVE, DIES FRIDAY

The Rev. Thomas B. Johnson, pastor of Corpus Christi Catholic Church in Chambersburg for the past 15 years, died Friday afternoon at the Chambersburg Hospital where he had been a patient since May 18. A priest for 47 years, Dr. Johnson was in his 70th year.

Fr. Johnson's last illness dated from April, 1953, when he underwent major surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Under Fr. Johnson's pastorate in Chambersburg the parish grew and Catholic missions were established at Greencastle, Mercersburg and Shippensburg. Shippensburg now has an established parish. During World War II, Fr. Johnson became Catholic chaplain for Letterkenny Ordnance Depot, and as pastor of Corpus Christi he was chaplain of the Catholic children of the Scotland School for Veterans' Children.

Born In Gettysburg

During Fr. Johnson's tenure at Chambersburg a new convent was provided for the nuns who teach in the parochial school, improvements were made to the school and the Catholic cemetery, and a new organ was installed in the church.

Fr. Johnson became pastor of Corpus Christi on April 14, 1939, succeeding the late Very Rev. F. C. Noel, who was pastor for 46 years.

One of the six children of Thomas C. and Emma Barnitz Johnson, Fr. Johnson was born August 29, 1884, at Gettysburg, and received his early education in Hanover. After graduation from Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., he studied for the priesthood at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, Overbrook.

Served County Churches

He was ordained at the age of 23 by the late James Cardinal Gibbons, outstanding Catholic prelate, at the Cathedral of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Baltimore, on December 21, 1907. His first assignment in the Harrisburg diocese, where he spent his entire ministry, was to Sacred Heart Church, Conewago. From 1908 to 1918, he was assistant to the late Msgr. Maurice H. Hassett at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Harrisburg. There he organized the Hassett Club, a pioneer athletic club with programs for both boys and girls, and was instrumental in erection of what is known today as the Harrisburg Catholic Youth Center.

Other assignments included churches in Gettysburg, York, Fairfield, Cornwall, Middletown and New Freedom. He was pastor of St. John's Church at New Freedom for 15 years before going to Chambersburg.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Olivet Bechtel and Mrs. Grace (Continued on Page 8)

VFW READY TO ASK BIDS FOR NEW POST HOME ON E. MIDDLE ST.

Bids will be invited Wednesday for the new home to be constructed by the Gettysburg Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on E. Middle St., at Fourth St.

It was also reported that the VFW Home Association is considering purchase of the remainder of the Leo McDermitt land along the south side of E. Middle St. to be turned into a park adjoining the contemplated new structure. The section bought by the local VFW for its new home has 110 feet of frontage along the street. McDermitt owns about 500 feet of additional frontage adjoining the VFW land.

According to the plans drawn for the local VFW by James Gilder, of the staff of J. Alfred Hamme, York architect, the new home of the VFW will be colonial in style along the front of the building with handmade colonial brick used as a casing. The rear of the structure will be of concrete block. The building will be 50 feet in width and 90 feet deep.

Grill And Ball Room

Most of the ground floor will be given over to a grill room and a ball room, with the two so designed that they can be opened up into one large room.

The grill room section will be 24 by 39 and will be finished in the style of an old English tavern with walnut paneling and a fireplace. The furnishings will be in keeping with the remainder of the room, including "captains' chairs and wooden tables finished in the style of those used in English taverns in the 18th century. The ballroom, a 40 by 50 foot area will be to the rear of the grill. Both grill and ballroom will be air conditioned. When a fireplace curtain is drawn aside there will be an opening connecting the two rooms.

Provision For Enlarging

A 21-by-16-foot kitchen will adjoin the grill and there will be an office, cloak room and rest rooms on the ground floor.

The west and south sides of the building are to be so constructed that if there is a need in the future to enlarge the building an addition can be easily constructed on those sides.

Meeting rooms for the VFW and its auxiliary storage rooms and a game room will occupy the basement portion of the structure.

To Open Bids August 3

Members of the building committee of the Home Association, Charles W. Wolf, chairman, George W. Boehner, Edward C. Beard, Stewart H. Moyer Thomas J. Collingsworth and Arthur J. Roth visited a number of VFW and American Legion homes in the general area before formulating the general plan for the new home which was submitted to and approved by the VFW.

Bids will be opened Tuesday, August 3, at the office of Attorney Wolf, Baltimore St., at 5 p.m.

Following that the building committee will submit its report and recommendations to the Home Association of VFW Post 15 at a special meeting on August 4 to act on the acceptance of bids and selection of various alternates listed in the request for bids.

ASSERT JAPAN NEEDS TRADE WITH RED CHINA

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japan needs some trade with Red China to become economically self-supporting, say three governors just back from a survey mission to the Far East for President Eisenhower.

The governors' report, turned in to the White House yesterday, suggested that Japanese trade with China be "so restricted and so regulated that it will develop a program of self-subsistence for Japan and not build up Red China's war machine."

Delivered in Person

The written report was delivered in person by Governors Dan Thornton of Colorado and John S. Fine of Pennsylvania. Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, the third member of the mission to Japan and Korea, could not be at the White House, but Thornton and Fine said he concurred in the conclusions.

The report said its recommendation that Japan should engage in "limited and controlled" trade with Communist China did not imply recognition of the Peiping Regime, but that it "does recognize the fact that Japan's largest neighbor, situated close to her shores and one of her best prospects for trade, is the 500 million Chinese."

Need Resources Too

The governors said a thriving Japan, with U. S. help, can provide troops "to help in the defense against the Communist menace" but that "without the fighting chance to survive economically and the ability to defend herself, Japan must ultimately be forced into communism."

Further than trade with China, the governors said, Japan must have access to resources and markets throughout Southeast Asia to make her way.

The governors talked about "establishing a foothold" for Japanese trade so that when communism has been "kicked out" of China, commerce between the two countries can be "stepped up immeasurably."

Other Recommendations

On other matters, the governors:

1. Urged speedy action on a "vastly expanded" attack warning system in Okinawa, Japan, Korea, Guam and other outposts as well as in this country.

2. Said a "good job" is being done in administering American aid to South Korea.

Whether there will be an immediate replacement for the Aumen restaurant and grill in the Ziegler building is "still uncertain," Aumen said.

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark, former Supreme United Nations commander in the Far East, was made to feel perfectly at home soon after assuming the presidency of The Citadel here.

On a stroll about the city, he passed a store and the shopkeeper called out: "Hello, General, how are you getting along?"

"Fine, thank you," Clark replied. "Just wanted you to know," the shopkeeper said, "that your wife was in here a few minutes ago and bought you a pair of shorts. If they don't fit, just bring them back."

"That," Clark said later, "convinced me that we had arrived." Mrs. Clark added that "That's never happened to us before."

Koreans Claim Japs Invade Fishing Area

SEOUL (AP)—A stony outcropping in the Japan sea which admittedly is not normally habitable will be defended against "trespassing" of Japanese fishermen by a 20-man Korean garrison force, according to South Korean police.

Lady Collars Skunk With Accurate Rock

IPSWICH, Mass. (AP)—There's a skunk wandering around the Ipswich woods wearing a glass collar. The animal stuck its head into a bottle and couldn't get it out. A woman—standing well off from her target—broke the bottle with a well-aimed rock.

When no one offered to come close enough to remove the bottle-neck, the skunk wandered off.

IKE ENDORSES WIDE PRIVATE HEALTH PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower lent his personal prestige last night to a telecast report by Secretary of Welfare Hobby on administration plans to encourage broadened private health insurance programs.

The President introduced Mrs. Hobby to her television audience. She spoke from the White House broadcast room.

Urging enactment of a plan for federal reinsurance of private health insurance programs, Mrs. Hobby said:

"To provide more of you with better insurance, insurance organizations will have to try out new type policies in which they have little experience. This involves risks."

U. S. To Share Risks
She said the federal government would share this risk by making an initial 25-million-dollar capital advance to a revolving reinsurance fund. The fund would be designed to support itself through premiums paid into it by private insurance firms.

Mrs. Hobby said the proposal is neither socialized medicine nor a handout to insurance companies. Committees in both Senate and House have approved the plan but no action has been taken on the floor of either house.

As examples of broader insurance coverage that the plan might foster, the welfare secretary cited "an increase in the number of days of hospitalization paid by your insurance, and an increase in the amount paid for room and board; an increase in the payments for special services such as X-rays and larger payments for accidents."

LINCOLN'S BIER FLAG RETRIEVED

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—The flag from Abraham Lincoln's casket now is the property of the McClean County Historical Society. It covered the coffin of the Civil War President during its journey from Washington, D.C., to Springfield in May, 1865.

Mrs. Inez Dunn, museum custodian, says the American flag was presented by Rep. Leslie C. Arends (R-Ill.) who received it from Mrs. Dorothy Beldier Eddy of Arlington, Va.

When the Lincoln funeral train arrived in Springfield and the casket was removed, the flag was handed to an unidentified Springfield merchant, S. Linn Beldier purchased the flag from the merchant for $10.

Affidavit Burns
With Beldier was his son, Frank, who remembered the transaction and who, before his death, signed an affidavit that the flag covered Lincoln's casket. The affidavit was lost in a fire about 1940 when the home of Donald C. Beldier, brother of Frank, burned at Manhasset, N. Y.

The 9 by 14-foot flag, with 35 stars, now tattered and soiled, was retrieved by Donald Beldier from the attic of the family home. He attempted its restoration and preservation, but it is seriously damaged by age.

The veterans hope to break ground for their new home shortly after August 4 and hope that the new structure will be completed by the end of the year.

charge of arrangements.

The board discussed a proposal for expansion of services to adults throughout the county. The plan, as it may eventually be developed, would call for bookmobile stops in many county communities in addition to the school stops.

Staff Member Resigns
The directors gave general approval and favored starting the plan on a moderate scale in keeping with the size of the staff and the books and funds available. The plan may be started in towns that already have branches or book stations to supplement the services at those points.

"It's a fine thing to offer this additional service to adults," Mrs. Kenneth Smoke, a board member, said. "Adults in the county are becoming increasingly aware of the library and its facilities and the library should welcome the opportunity to get more books to adults. In the past the chief emphasis has been upon service to our young readers."

Mrs. Wilson announced the resignation of Mrs. Ilse Langerhans as a member of the library staff, effective August 15. Mrs. Langerhans is resigning to accept a position on the Gettysburg College faculty. The board authorized the employment of Mrs. Gwendolyn Hall, Gettysburg R. 4, as a library assistant to fill the vacancy. Mrs. Hall will begin her duties before August 1.

State Check Comes
A gift of $100 from the New Oxford Lions Club was announced and Mrs. Wilson said the final payment on the 1954 appropriation from the state has been received. The state payments total $3,375. The $600 from Gettysburg borough has not been received and a fourth quarter payment is expected from the Community Chest but its amount is not yet certain.

Mrs. Wilson told the board the library has received a number of donations in addition to 183 books in the last month: a 1753 Bible printed in German from C. Ray Rupp; a history of the Warner Hos-

SENATORS MEET THIS MORNING FOR MORE TALK ON FOREIGN AID

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Relations Committee members gathered against a backdrop of ringing Senate debate today to stake out further changes in an already-cut foreign aid bill.

Acting Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) summoned the group to a closed Saturday session at 10:30 a.m. EDT to take up other portions of the multi-billion-dollar measure which the committee yesterday said could be slashed $347,708,000 without harming the nation's cold war aims.

On the agenda was a toned-down amendment by Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate majority leader, whose original demand that the United States walk out of the United Nations if Red China walks in set off a flurry of foreign policy arguments.

Toned Down Amendment
Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) hit on this issue yesterday while the Senate, for the second day in a row, was devoting a good share of its floor debate to the troubles America faces abroad.

Flanders said Congress and the administration should not use "weasel words" in opposing Peiping's possible seating in the U.N. "Let us say," he declared, "that when Communist China tears away its curtain and resumes intercourse with the Western world . . . then we should be willing to reconsider our objections. Such a China will not be a Communist China of today."

Circulation Keeps Growing
The monthly circulation report from the library showed book loans for June totaled 3,384 as compared with 2,988 in the same month last year. Loans so far this year total 110,673. Loans to adults last month nearly equalled those to juvenile readers, the report showed.

President William M. Lott presided at the two-hour session with these directors present: Miss Ann Faber, Mrs. Ira Henderson, William C. Darrah, the Rev. Nevin Frantz, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler, Mrs. Smoke, Mr. Asquith, C. P. Keefe and Mr. Long and Mrs. Wilson, who is the board secretary.

The next meeting will be held Friday, September 3.

State Police Arrest Tipsy Plow Jockey

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Highway Patrolman R. A. Queen began filling out a citation form for drunken driving: "Make of vehicle?" Horse. "Type of vehicle?" Plow. "Model?" Three years old. Finally Queen decided to charge the driver with public drunkenness. The defendant pleaded guilty and paid court costs.

Coast City Welcomes Shovel, Pail Activity

SALEM, Mass. (AP)—Beach-going youngsters have 1,500 tons of sand to move this summer and Salem officials think they'll do it with pails and shovels.

Because of unusual tide conditions, Crane's beach in nearby Ipswich had too much sand. And because of lack of snow Salem's snow division was inactive. Thinking the sand would improve Salem's beaches, the snow crews hauled the sand and dumped it in piles above the flood tide mark. Now, it's up to the children to spread it.

SIX OR SEVEN

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Virginia General Assembly left a puzzle for state officials. It fixed the mileage reimbursement for state employees at seven cents per mile in a special act. But the appropriation act states it shall not exceed six. Furthermore the appropriation act repeals all acts in conflict with it. Officials wonder what was the legislative intent.

ELECTRONIC GHOST

came in for some criticism on both sides of the aisle yesterday as Flanders delivered what was billed as a major speech.

The Vermont senator contended the United States has lost face in Asia, and he called for new strategy in the cold war against the Communists.

Not A "Mr. Fixit"
"We should go on the offensive for the hearts and minds of the Russian people on the question of disarmament," he said.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said the administration had secretly consulted congressional leaders April 3—but none from the Senate Foreign Relations or House Foreign Affairs Committee—on the possibility of asking Congress to authorize President Eisenhower to intervene in Indochina if he thought necessary.

Several GOP senators, including Smith, said they had never heard of such a proposal. Mansfield said he wasn't surprised, because Smith wasn't invited to the meeting.

Coming to the administration's defense was Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), who declared this country could not be "Mr. Fixit" for anywhere on the globe trouble might develop.

DELAY PLANS FOR EVACUATION OF CIVILIANS

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—The French High Command said today any plan to evacuate civilians from Indochina's northern city of Hanoi hinges on whether current peace negotiations succeed or fail.

A spokesman for Gen. Paul Ely said France's Indochina commander is holding off on any evacuation move until he learns whether an armistice is to be signed.

Ely predicted yesterday that a peace-or-war decision would be reached by July 20—the date French Premier Pierre Mendès-France set as his deadline to achieve a truce or resign.

The spokesman denied that Ely had given orders before his departure from Hanoi that families of Frenchmen living in the north be evacuated to a safer place.

The situation in Hanoi has become increasingly serious the past week because of the mounting stream of refugees pouring in from the Red River Delta in the wake of the French withdrawal from the delta's southern sector. It is estimated that between 75,000 and 100,000 refugees have swelled Hanoi's normal population of 300,000.

Thief Wrecks Room As Owner Snoozes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Adolph H. Bohann, snoozing in a rear room at his loan company, was awakened by a vigorous pounding on the door.

Sleepily, he admitted police who arrested a man found hiding in the basement. The police told Bohann that while he was sleeping a front window had been smashed, the firm's burglar alarm had sounded, and the handle on the company safe had been pounded off with a hammer and iron bar.

Nazi Prisoners Escape Camp Here;
FBI Directs Hunt: A two-state man-hunt under the direction and supervision of the FBI is on for two German prisoners of war who escaped from the war prisoner's stockade, located on the Emmitsburg road, just on the outskirts of Gettysburg.

The escape of the two prisoners was not discovered until some time on Monday, the exact hour not being defined. They are believed to have escaped sometime between night and 6 a.m. Monday.

The two escaped prisoners, wearing blue denim shirts and pants with the letters PW printed on the back of both were identified as Thomas Kostaniak, 37, and Axel Ostermaier, 22.

Kostaniak was formerly a sergeant in the German infantry and speaks but very little English. He took with him a barracks bag containing a German uniform.

Young County Flier Awarded Medal, Leaves: Lt. Richard D. Gilbert, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gilbert, Biglerville, who has been flying a P-38 Lightning fighter plane from a base in England since early in March of this year, has been awarded the Air Medal and three oak leaf clusters, it is disclosed in a letter just received by his parents.

Gilbert is a graduate of Gettysburg High School with the class of 1940 and before entering service had been employed at the Gettysburg Furniture Factories.

N. O. Man Hurt In Normandy;
An Army Medical Corps man, crawling on all fours, carried S. Sgt. Faber O. Overbaugh through a hail of lead after the New Oxford youth had been wounded by shrapnel in Normandy.

S. Sgt. Overbaugh told of the rescue, and disclosed that he had been wounded and been awarded the Purple Heart in a letter to his father, Clair Overbaugh, Carlisle Street, New Oxford.

The county soldier wrote his parent: "The medic who carried me back was crawling on all fours with me on his back and leading spitting all around us. From what I saw all about me I consider myself lucky at that."

152 Persons, Mostly Kids, Are Dead In Circus Blaze: Hartford, Conn., July 7 (AP) — as the death toll from the burning of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey big top reached 152 today, anguished parents and relatives still sought to identify charred bodies of victims at the temporary morgue in the State Armory drill shed.

The fire, acknowledged to be the greatest disaster in American circus history, reduced the show's main tent to ashes within less than an hour yesterday and brought injury to at least 225 of the estimated 6,000 spectators at the afternoon performance.

State police on duty at the temporary morgue estimated that two-thirds of the dead were children and said most of the adult victims were women.

Only the first act, the performance of the trained animals, had been completed when the blaze, at first so small that, as one witness said, it could have been extinguished with a bucket of water, was seen near the main entrance of the big top.

The first move toward the exists was orderly and many of the children making their way from the tiers of seats were seen laughing excitedly.

But when the flames roared with terrifying speed to consume the entire canvas roof, the audience became a fighting, screaming, terror-stricken mass.

Canning Test Starts Season At Orrtanna: What was scheduled officially to be a test run of cherry canning at the Orrtanna Company's new plant at Orrtanna last Friday turned into the "start of the canning season." Howard Musselman of the plant staff said Saturday.

The canning operations were the first in Orrtanna since the company's previous plant was destroyed by fire December 3, 1942. Last year the company's cherry canning was performed at the C. H. Musselman

Today's Talk

THE FIRE OF ENTHUSIASM

Few efforts in life mean much unless backed with some phase of enthusiasm. I like to meet a salesman who gets excited when a customer shows evidence of a desire to buy. Just a few days ago I went into a store to inquire about a TV set about which I had been told. "Come with me," said the salesman. He led me to a quiet room where this particular instrument was— and none other.

Immediately this salesman went into ecstasy as to the merits of this particular TV. He said that there was nothing like it, and he demonstrated it in detail. I agreed with this salesman, but told him I had no intention of buying, that I had only come in to learn about it because of what had been told to me. I couldn't help but admire the faith and enthusiasm of this salesman, however, and his excitement was a tonic to me. I have an abiding idea that I'll go back to that man again! Such people are all too rare.

It stimulates me to meet anyone who gets excited over his or her work or plans. People do not do much until they get excited. You have to get excited before the fire of enthusiasm burns its best.

It was the excitement of discovery and the many promises of rewards and findings that stimulated expeditions from the Old World to this Western World. That's what gave to our pioneers and forefathers. And that is what gave us America. Even to this day, because of discoveries, people are getting excited over tales of new metals, oils, and other precious substances. Excited and enthusiastic people are the ones who have blessed every new country and made something great out of it.

All great works of art have been conceived and executed while the artist has been in a spell of ecstasy and enthusiasm. Great reform movements have always been initiated by excited and endowed men and women who believed in their mission.

PENNSYLVANIA GROUP SPLIT ON JOBLESS PAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvanians in the House of Representatives were split in the unsuccessful effort to increase unemployment compensation payments.

In the House action Thursday, defeating an amendment that would have boosted pay benefits, Keystone State representatives voted 15 to 13 against.

Rep. Granahan (D—Pa.) spoke strongly for higher payments, especially to help thousands of jobless Philadelphians. The amendment would have boosted payments from $30 to $44 a week and extended the period of payment from 26 to 39 weeks.

Aimed At Large Area

"More than 17,000 have lost their jobs in the transportation equipment industry," Granahan insisted in yesterday's debate, "but for Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery and Philadelphia counties in Pennsylvania, and Burlington, Camden and Gloucester counties in New Jersey."

"More than 17,000 have lost their jobs in the transportation equipment industry, 11,000 in apparel production, and thousands in other industries."

Rep. George M. Rhodes (D—Pa.) also supported higher pay benefits, citing the need of thousands in Berks County.

Passed Eventually

The GOP-backed bill — which eventually passed 309 to 36, which all the Pennsylvanians voting for except Bonin and Scott who did not vote—would not meet the needs of the unemployed, said Rhodes.

Rhodes said the Reading and Berks County area has experienced a drop in factory employment of 10 per cent and is now classified a critical unemployment district with more than "seven per cent of the total non-agricultural work force . . . out of jobs and looking for work."

"The fall in the purchasing power of these people will be felt far beyond their own doorsteps. The fact that these people do not have money with which to buy the things they need will inevitably effect the small businessmen and farmers of the community. Then, it will further affect the adverse employment situation in industries manufacturing semi-durable and durable goods."

DIETRICH STUNT IS REPRODUCED

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Lifting an idea from Marlene Dietrich, Hollywood's Terry Moore made her night club debut Thursday night in a gown transparent from the waist up—except for clusters of beads here and there.

Miss Dietrich, in her celebrated appearance here some months ago, didn't bother with the beads.

An overflow crowd sprinkled with filmland celebrities turned out to watch Miss Moore do a lively song and dance act, aided by three men. The gown appeared to generate more enthusiasm than her antics.

During most of the act she wore conventional—if low cut—garments. The sensation came in the finale which she made in a $3,500 black beaded dress weighing 26 pounds, the upper portion of which was described as being "transparent nude soufflé." Ringsiders estimated that 99 per cent of the beads were in the lower portions of the garment.

SNAIL'S PACE ON IKE'S ATOMS-FOR-PEACE PLANS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Snail's pace negotiations on President Eisenhower's atoms for peace proposal inched forward yesterday when the State Department met a Soviet request for clarification of the plan.

U.S.-Russian contacts on the seven-month-old Eisenhower proposal have been at a standstill since last April 27 when Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov raised certain questions in a note he handed to Secretary of State Dulles in the early days of the Geneva conference.

Yesterday, Russian Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin was called to the State Department where—in a meeting that lasted only five minutes—Asst. Secretary of State Livingston T. Merchant handed him the U.S. reply.

The text of the Russian note of April 27 never has been made public. Neither was the U.S. reply yesterday. The State Department would say only that it answered the Soviet request "dealing with atomic energy matters." Zarubin left the department smiling, but silent.

However, it was learned unofficially that the U.S. message was a point-by-point reply couched in general terms.

Dulles Turns Deaf Ear To French Plea

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. diplomatic officials indicated today that Secretary of State Dulles is inclined to turn a deaf ear to French urgings that he or Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith return to Geneva for showdown talks with the Reds on a truce for Indochina.

However, though they said they regarded it as unlikely, these officials did not foreclose the possibility Dulles might change his mind and fly back to Switzerland.

RED STALLING DELAYS TRIAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Arguments on a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal have further delayed a trial of nine alleged Communist leaders here.

The nine are being tried on charges they conspired to advocate and teach the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Chief Defense Atty. Thomas McBride made the motion for withdrawal of a juror and hence a mistrial two days ago. He said the fact two books used as government evidence had been eliminated by the court, did not remove the influence of "inflammatory passages" from the minds of jurors. The prosecution has asked U. S. District Judge J. Cullen Ganev to reinstate the two books—dealing with the doctrines of Communism—as evidence and at the same time turn down the defense motion for a mistrial or directed verdict of acquittal.

Judge Ganev said yesterday he does not see how the argument

Red Schoendienst Hits Safely In 28th Consecutive Game But Cards Lose; Chisox Stop Tribe

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al (Red) Schoendienst, one of baseball's most consistent stars, was making a bid today for the modern National League consecutive game hitting record.

The unassuming second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, who for years has been one of baseball's top stars, although in the shadow of the great Stan Musial, hit safely in his 28th straight game last night.

He needs to hit safely in each of the next 10 games to top the modern league mark of 37 set by Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves in 1945. Should he achieve that goal, he owns the fourth highest consecutive hitting skein.

Chisox Beat Tribe
Joe Dimaggio established the major league record of 56 with the 1941 New York Yankees. Willie Keeler of the 1897 Baltimore Orioles holds the all-time National League mark of 44. George Sisler hit in 41 straight games for the St. Louis Browns in 1922 and Ty Cobb connected safely in 40 games for the 1911 Detroit Tigers.

Another fine second baseman, Nellie Fox, collected three hits including a two-run single that climaxed a four-run seventh inning to give the Chicago White Sox an 8-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Cleveland's loss, together with New York's 6-5 triumph over Washington, trimmed the Indians' first place American League lead over the Yankees to three games. Jim Rivera also starred at the bat for Chicago, hammering two home runs and a single while scoring four runs.

Brooklyn Beats Phils
The Yankees overcame a 5-1 deficit, scoring three times in the eighth with the aid of a throwing error by Washington third baseman Eddie Yost and bagging the tying and winning runs in the ninth on hits by Gil McDougald and Bill Skowron and a sacrifice fly by Mickey Mantle.

Brooklyn ended a three-game losing streak, edging out the Philadelphia Phillies 7-5 on Roy Campanella's three-run homer in the 10th but remained 6½ games behind the National League leading New York Giants who whipped Pittsburgh 6-3. Johnny Antonelli went the route for his 13th game victory.

Campanella, who earlier has disclosed that two fingers of his left hand had become numb following an operation last May, also ignited a three-run ninth inning rally with a double that overcame a 5-2 deficit. Two walks and a base-clearing double by Pee Wee Reese accounted for the three tying runs.

Orioles Beat Tigers
Jim Greengrass batted in four runs with a homer and single to give Cincinnati a 5-3 victory over Milwaukee. Gene Baker cracked four hits and drove in four runs to lead the Cubs to a 6-4 victory over the Cardinals. Baker got his fourth hit in the 11th inning when the Cubs broke through for the winning runs.

Pitcher Duane Pillette pitched and batted Baltimore to a 7-5 victory over Detroit. His single scored what proved to be the winning runs as the Orioles snapped a five-game losing streak.

Four home runs—two by shortstop Joe DeMaestri—gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 9-3 triumph over Boston as Alex Kellner went the distance for his fifth triumph against eight losses.

HIRSCH ON NEW HORSE IN 'CAP

NEW YORK (AP)—Trainer Max Hirsch, who has been bagging the big races in New York for more than a month, will try for the $50,000-added Brooklyn handicap today at Aqueduct with a horse making his first start of 1954.

He is Level Lea, a 4-year-old son of Bull Lea-Level Best, who hasn't raced since he won the $82,200 Jockey Club gold cup at Belmont Park last Oct. 10. Level Lea is owned by John S. Phipps.

Nine horses were entered for the mile and one-quarter Brooklyn, which dates back to 1887 at the Gravesend Track. The race will be televised on the CBS network 3:30 p.m. EST, and broadcast by ABC 3:15-3:30 p.m.

Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron's Royal Vale with 126 pounds was the overnight favorite.

Alfred Vanderbilt's Pind is in with 122 pounds while Level Lea will carry 120.

Both the highest point on the mainland, Mt. Whitney, 14,495 feet and the lowest, 282 feet below sea level in Death Valley, are in California.

Emmitsburg Halts Littlestown Skein

Littlestown's four-game unbeaten streak came to an end Friday evening when Emmitsburg of the Pennsylvania Baseball League triumphed 9-6 under the lights on Littlestown's Memorial Field.

After Littlestown tabbed five runs in the first inning Emmitsburg came back in the second with six tallies and was never headed.

Next Wednesday New Oxford will play at Littlestown at 8 p.m.

Jansen Joins Giant Coaching Staff

Larry Jansen, second from left, is congratulated by Giant skipper Leo Durocher at the Polo Grounds, New York, July 9, after being signed by the Giants as a pitching coach. Jansen, one-time star hurler who helped the Giants win the 1951 pennant, was given his unconditional release as a player but was immediately signed as a coach at the same salary, believed close to $22,500. Also wishing Jansen luck in his new assignment are pitchers Jim Horn, left, and Sal Maglie. To replace the 34-year-old Jansen, the Giants brought up Al Corvin from Minneapolis. (AP Wirephoto)

STYLIST UNITES SHIRT AND SLIP FOR TEENERS

By The Associated Press
Anne Fogarty, perennial teenager, once fell in love with a shirt—and thereby hangs a shirt-tale.

The platinum blonde Anne, who wears her own size 7 junior dresses, also loved petticoats, and so she decided to effect a union of the two. The result has been a new way of dressing for most of America's style-conscious girls.

The shirt dress with crisp, full skirt flaring out over several beruffled crinoline petticoats, is the favorite costume of the nation's younger set, and a special signature of designer Fogarty. This year the popularity of her favorite pet outfit has broken all past records.

Any girl between the ages of 14 and 21 who doesn't own a collection of man-tailored shirts and cancan petticoats considers herself underprivileged in these days. Says Miss Fogarty:

"I guess it's the silly idea of combining the boy's shirt with the girl's fluffy ruffles that appeals to the kids. The tailored tops have the crisp, understated look that young people always like, and the crinolines below remind them to be feminine. Anyway they look cute, don't they?"

They do. Miss Fogarty herself looks cute wearing any one of her summer collection of glorified shirt dresses. With her 21-inch waist and youthful figure, she expects to go on wearing junior styles for the rest of her life. Her philosophy is that it's more fun to stay young.

This season she has done her shirt dresses in unexpected feminine fabrics and prints, such as red roses on black-and-white striped cotton, blue carnations on a white ground and so on.

Hit Homer Anyway
Campanella returned to action only four weeks after the operation and has been complaining recently that the hand hurt. He said the pain was so bad in last night's game against the Philadelphia Phillies that he couldn't grip the bat properly. Still, he hit a home run in the tenth inning with one man on base to win it for the Dodgers, 7-5.

The burly catcher, a member of the Dodgers since mid-1948 and twice the most valuable player in the National League, said he was determined to play in the all-star game in Cleveland on Tuesday, Dr. Fett's diagnosis notwithstanding.

Slight Tire Unbalance Can Cause Serious Pounding Of Wheel At High Car Speeds

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Motoring is another way of running into so many interesting people.

Need for Figures?

Those of you who have been trying to convince friends that a little tire unbalance may cause a real pounding of the wheel at higher speeds can use the following facts to advantage.

An average size tire out of balance as little as 4 ounces at the tread will exert a force of about 45 pounds when the car is traveling 60 miles per hour. This is enough force to lift the wheel from the ground, and it's no wonder the wheel tramps and shim-mies.

At this 60 mph clip the average tire makes about 12 revolutions per second. No wonder it builds up so much centrifugal force.

In addition to this static unbalance there is the dynamic unbalance to be considered. Sometimes the weight is unevenly distributed between the outer and inner sides of the tire-wheel combination. A bent wheel, incidentally, will have this effect. So would a patch on one sidewall. Or some inherent tire defect.

Reasons for Variations

Most motorists know that if there are variations in piston ring wear, or if valves do not all seat properly, there will be variations in compression between the different cylinders. But it isn't too general also come from leaks in the cylinder head gasket or even in the gaskets which are used for the spark plugs. The one that usually escapes notice, however, is the matter of the cylinder head nuts. If they are unevenly tightened there may be too low compression.

Nothing to Worry About

Recently when returning from a trip a friend was surprised to find evidences of oil burning on the fogged up section of the rear bumper near the exhaust pipe. He did not realize that he had been using additives in with the oil and that in doing their work of removing gummy deposits on the piston rings they often pass into the combustion chamber and burn off. I have noticed that they may temporarily increase oil consumption. This explains the smoking at the exhaust and the clouding of the bumper. It's a healthy enough sign and nothing that calls for consultation with a medical M. D.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"I suppose it seems like a lot of money to have to spend around $7.50 to have front wheels aligned, but don't ever underestimate the expense involved in learning how to do this sort of work and the equipment needed. I have before me an instruction book for use by mechanics using one of the fairly simple alignment systems, and it runs 24 pages of copy and diagrams before we get to line 'We are now ready to do wheel alignment checking.'"

"Like a lot of other repairmen these days I seem to be spending most of my money for machines in order to do better work. Nor is it always the initial outlay. In order to install just one hydraulic lift in my shop I will have to turn away a large volume of work for at least a week. The area to be filled by the new lift will be useless for service, and the entire shop will be a mess. But it will pay off in progress."

Saved by a Detail

Having owned one of the very early cars to adopt four-wheel hydraulic brakes — the famous Jordan playboy — I feel that I can speak from experience regarding a detail in brake design which probably was an important factor in preventing this type braking from being tossed into the scrap heap. In this early system the brake piston of the master cylinder was attached to the link from the brake pedal in such a way that after the pedal was pressed down and released its return spring also pulled the brake piston back to the "off" position. The effect of this was to force the piston to suck air since the fluid was a bit sluggish in returning through the lines. It was not until they developed a master cylinder with only one-way connection between the link and the piston were they able to check excessive air in the system and the tell-tale spongy pedal.

The Motor Primer

Don't lose too much sleep over it but the semi-floating rear axle used on American passenger cars isn't as safe as the full-float type which many engineers still feel is right design. In the latter type the axle serves merely to transmit the rotary motion (or torque). It carries no load and is not subject to damage from shock to the wheels. If one of the axles breaks with a full-floating design the wheel of the affected axle remains in position. In your car (unless you happen to have one of the older type with a full-floating arrangement) the wheel will come off if an axle breaks.

Depends on the Brake

If the man at the parking lot tries the hand brake on your car and finds it wanting don't be surprised if he advises that he cannot take a chance on parking your car. Your car may have a type of automatic drive that does not provide for a solid connection between the engine and rear driving wheels, and thus cannot be held "in gear" if the parking brake is not working properly.

Oddities in Braking

You can usually figure that the lining on the primary brake shoes will wear faster than that on the secondary. The primary is the forward shoe in each individual brake set-up. In fact the lining on the secondary often outlasts two sets of primary lining.

Self, action of hydraulic brakes is due to a pressure build-up within the system. It is caused by clogging of the relief port of the master cylinder.

One of the ways in which engineers obtain special results from braking systems that are alike in other general respects is to use different lengths of lining for the primary and secondary shoes. Often noise is eliminated by simply cutting back the lining ends.

Matter of Overload

My statement that poor connections in the lighting circuit can burn out headlights seems to have left some readers a bit puzzled. Would such inefficiency in the circuit not have the opposite effect, they ask. That is, if resistance is offered to free flow of current would this not cut down voltage and actually increase lamp life even though there would be reduced candlepower?

What happens is that such resistance from poor connections may be variable. Thus there is a build up of voltage (electrical pressure). When current intermittently flows normally (between periods of build-up) there will be overloading of the lamps.

Q. What would cause flooding of the carburetor? We have checked fuel pump pressure and find it is not too high. K. L. G.

A. There may be dirt on the float needle or its seat. Check also for a binding float.

Q. Have been troubled with tubes burning out in the car's radio. This is getting to be quite expensive. W. F.

A. Radio is out of my line, but I have seen this happen because of need for adjusting the generator regulator.

Q. Brakes on my car are definitely sluggish. A check-up shows the fluid is of good quality. R. R. T.

A. I would do some checking. You may find that the brake shoe retracting springs are not of the same tension.

Q. There is a most annoying rattle in the rear end of the car. Shock absorbers are not loose, nor are the springs. The tire holder is tight. There are no loose tools in the luggage compartment, and its cover is tight. Someone has suggested that there may be a loose baffle plate in the gas tank. Have you any ideas on this? J. J. H.

A. I do not think this is due to the tank, but you may find that the shield or apron over the tank on your particular model car is loose. You may have hit a rock with it in backing.

Q. I have done a lot of checking to try to find out why the engine starts so hard these days. Crank is lively. The engine gets plenty of gas. The spark plugs are new. So are the breaker points. Do you think this is due to low compression? J. J. B.

A. Your car is so new I doubt if compression would be low enough to be troublesome. I would check the gapping of those

FOREST FIRES' LOSSES RUNNING BELOW AVERAGE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's forest fire losses so far this year are running far below a 10-year average, the State Forest and Waters Department reported today.

"The trend is toward bettering the decline in forest fires even under adverse weather conditions," said Samuel S. Lewis, secretary of forests and waters.

Lewis cited the 50 per cent decline in forest fires in the commonwealth last year from 1952. He said this was despite a severe summer and fall drought which left woodlands tinder-dry.

Lewis said there have been 600 forest fires reported to his department since Jan. 1. This is 250 below the yearly average for the past 10 years and 900 below the yearly average for the past 20 years.

"The newspapers, radio and television are giving us a big hand in this," Lewis said. "We find that sportsmen and visitors to the woodlands in general are certainly more careful than they ever were before."

Conscious Of Fires

"I think everyone is more conscious of the fire situation as a result of campaigns through public media," Lewis added.

Last year in Pennsylvania 1,421 fires burned 33,969 acres of woodland, while in 1952, 1,555 reported fires consumed 68,147 acres of woods.

During the extreme fall and summer drought, neighboring West Virginia, which experienced the same dry conditions, lost 350,505 acres of woodland to fires.

In the Commonwealth careless smokers were blamed for 570 forest fires and campers were blamed for 284 of the blazes. The remainder of the fires were the result of a variety of causes.

Lewis reported that the cost of extinguishing the blazes in Pennsylvania woodlands last year, despite the decrease in fires, was slightly higher than the 10-year average costs.

"This was because of the dry summer conditions which dried out the floor of the forest and allowed the fires to burn down deep. These are very hard to extinguish and cost much more," Lewis declared.

The secretary declined to predict the final result of the department's campaign against fire this year.

"There are too many factors to take into consideration to make a prediction."

SAFETY COUNCIL LISTS WAYS TO GET SANE TAN

By The Associated Press

It can take only a few minutes in the summer sun to make you look—and feel—like a boiled lobster.

When you're suffering through the blisters, it will be little consolation to know that you have lots of company. Every summer a high percentage of bathers ignore all the advice of the American Safety Council, the U.S. Public Health Service and other sources.

As a result, more than eight million days will be lost through sunburn absenteeism and the same number of days will be spent in misery by broiled humans.

Authorities Advise

Here are some suggestions by sun authorities for a safe and

Doc Says Only Colds Top Dental Diseases

DES MOINES (AP)—Tooth disease is more widespread than any other ailment of mankind except the common cold, Dr. Leslie M. Fitzgerald, Dubuque, Iowa, president of the American Dental Assn., says.

He estimates it would take 280 million fillings to fix all the cavities of children 6 to 18 years old in the United States and that 97 per cent of the population suffers from some form of tooth decay or gum disease.

pretty tan:

There is no exact time limit for safe sunning because skin types differ in their sensitivity to ultraviolet. As a rule, however, fair skins are quicker to burn than olive skins, but the individual is the final judge of his own skin. Some will find their maximum exposure is 15 minutes. Others may tolerate as much as 50 minutes.

A good effective sun lotion can help double the time you may safely stay in the sun. Screening in-redients used in these lotions ration ultraviolet rays without impeding those that stimulate the tanning process.

Quick Tan Useless

Even with a suntan lotion you can't hope to acquire a tan the first day. Prolonged exposure to sunlight may result in a painful and serious burn or a tan that will peel away quickly.

You can take less sun at the beach where reflection by sand and water doubles the intensity of ultraviolet than you can take near grass or trees. You'll need to wear lotion on cloudy or hazy days, too.

Oiliness has nothing to do with the effectiveness of a sun preparation, so be wary of picking up just any oil from pantry or medicine chest to use as a sun screen.

Be sure to coat yourself with sun lotion after each swim and whenever your skin begins to feel dry. Sun allergy creams are available, which are said to block out all sun rays and if applied to sensitive areas such as nose, lips, shoulders, back of the knees will help insure safe sunning.

Paper Cites Commy Pressure Persuasion

HONG KONG (AP)—Chinese Communists are forcing Shanghai business men to operate their own businesses for the benefit of the Reds, says a Hong Kong trade paper. Here's how the paper says they do it:

They accuse a firm of tax defaults, profiteering or exploiting. The bill is bigger than the company can pay and the plant is declared a public-private enterprise. The management is forced to work with Communist cadres until, as the paper puts it, the Reds "learn the difference between hay and a bull's foot."

Further pressure comes from Red control of markets. So far this year, 13 of the biggest Shanghai factories have become public-private. Most of them had been crippled by tax claims, fines and lack of markets. Now they are prosperous with a flood of government orders the paper says.

STAMP NEWS

By SYD KRONISH
The Associated Press
An interesting sports set has arrived from Liechtenstein. The four stamps in the series show European football (soccer) players in action.

The 10 franc pink and 40 franc blue show two men scrimmaging for the ball. The 25 fr brown depicts a goalie making a save. The 20 fr green pictures a player kicking the ball.

The Vatican has issued a series of three stamps to commemorate the canonization of Pope Pius X. The stamps, bearing pictures of the Pontiff, are 10 lire, 25 lire and 35 lire.

The U.S. 3-cent commemorative for the 100th anniversary of the birth of George Eastman will be placed on first day sale at Rochester, N. Y., July 12. Although born at Waterville, N. Y., Eastman went to Rochester at an early age and gained fame there as an inventor and a philanthropist.

Stamp collectors desiring first day cancellations of this stamp may send addressed envelopes to the Postmaster at Rochester, N. Y., with money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope.

HOUSEWIVES IN BRITAIN WIN MEAT PRICE WAR

By ALVIN STEINKOPF
LONDON (AP)—British housewives did a lot of shrewd window shopping, and at the end of the first week of ration-free meat they had emerged victorious in an unorganized buyers' strike.

Women admired the beautiful steaks which dealers, freed on July 3 of government control for the first time in more than 14 years, displayed in their shops.

But, with prices generally double what they were in rationing days, women were buying little meat.

Hundreds of tons piled up in the shops, and by the weekend prices had tumbled to levels in some cases lower than those prevailing in the years of government regulation. Some merchants who had counted on a rush for meat have lost money.

Expected To Stabilize
Most dealers expected prices would stabilize at just a little above the range of rationing days.

Prices against which British housewives rebelled are not comparable with meat costs in other lands because in Britain a retail price does not reveal subsidies which may be as high as 50 per cent. But steaks they shunned at about 75 cents a pound. They were accustomed to paying about 47 cents.

Lamb chops remained steady at 42 cents. Stewing steak in the free market was 37 cents. It is down to 32 cents.

MURDER TRIAL IS POSTPONED

PERCE, Que., (AP)—The trial of Wilbert Coffin, 43-year-old prospector accused of slaying three Pennsylvania hunters in the dense bush of Gaspe Peninsula last summer, has been postponed from July 12 to July 15.

Coffin, held in Quebec City Jail, is accused specifically of the murder of Richard Lindsey, 17, of Holidaysburg, Pa. Lindsey's body was found last summer with those of his father, Eugene, 47, and Albert Claar, 20, in a remote forest area.

Justice Gerard Lacroix announced the postponement yesterday in a special Assizes of the Perce Court of Queen's Bench called by the Quebec cabinet for Coffin's hearing.

The special Assizes now is hearing the trial of Fernand Clavet, 27,

Judge Withdraws In Hospital Case

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Fearful that a legal fight between 16 doctors and the board of trustees of Miners' Hospital at nearby Spangler may develop into a long drawn out battle, President Judge John H. McCann has withdrawn from the case.

Judge McCann, 75, signed a court order instructing the doctors to show cause Monday why they should not be legally restrained from quitting their posts at the hospital as the result of differences with State Sen. John Haluska (D-Cambria), who is hospital administrator.

The doctors said Haluska wanted to turn part of the hospital over to Harry Hoxsey of Dallas, Tex., who claims to have developed a cure for cancer. The cure has been termed useless by the American Medical Assn.

In announcing his withdrawal from the case, Judge McCann said he took the Hoxsey cancer treatment himself about a month ago. He said that is not the reason he is retiring, but rather because of ill health.

ALL REVEALING GOWN JUNKED

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Shapely Terry Moore's revealing night club dress that caused a mild sensation during her Las Vegas casino act went into retirement today—after a spokesman for her church voiced objections.

The $3,500 low cut gown, transparent from the waist up—except for clusters of beads here and there—joined the white ermine bathing suit as apparel items Miss Moore wore with tempestuous results.

Unexplained objections—not from the soldier audiences—forced the actress to pack away the ermine suit she wore at camp shows in Korea last Christmas time.

Thursday night came the black beaded dress and criticism from a spokesman for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in which her brother does missionary work.

Said Terry, sometimes described as her own best press agent: "I guess I wore it against my better judgment."

charged with murder of 26-year-old Jean Paul Pelchat at Manche d'Epee, Que., last fall.

Judge Lacroix said Clavet's hearing is not expected to be completed before late next week.

Wearing only a shadow in an attempt to keep cool, four-year-old Jimmy Kelly, of Long Beach, Cal., moves in high gear as he is pursued by his mother, Mrs. James M. Kelly, Long Beach, along with the rest of Southern California, is going through a heat wave, with the July 7 temperature hitting 93 degrees. (AP Wirephoto)

Striking Atomic Workers At Paducah Possible Targets For T-H Law Injunction Today

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Striking CIO atomic workers at Paducah, Ky., were possible targets for a quick Taft-Hartley Law injunction today—only hours after a turnaround of a back-to-work proposal worked out Secretary of Labor Mitchell and union leaders.

Other strikers at Oak Ridge, Tenn., members of the same CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers Union, are going back to work, on condition they can walk out again if further bargaining fails.

Government attorneys had been prepared to go to court today to halt the strikes at the vital Atomic Energy Commission plants at Oak Ridge and Paducah. But with the developments early this morning at mass meetings by the two groups of strikers, in which one group accepted and the other turned down the government-union proposal, those attorneys reached were unable to say definitely what steps they would take next.

Back To Work At Oak Ridge
One Labor Department informant said an injunction "obviously" would not be lodged against the Oak Ridge group going back to work, but that a court order was likely to be sought against the Paducah strikers barring another late-hour change in circumstances.

The two struck plants contain the country's entire facilities for refining uranium to get the material used in making both the atomic and hydrogen bombs, and President Eisenhower has said a continuing walkout would hurt the nation's drive for atomic supremacy. For the time being, the plants have been kept in full production by supervisory personnel.

The back-to-work proposal worked out by Mitchell, CIO President Walter Reuther and officials of the chemical workers group at secret Washington meetings yesterday was delivered to the two groups of strikers in separate meetings late last night.

Only 10 Favor Proposal
At Paducah, only 10 of 500 workers who met on a main road leading to the atomic plant said they favored the recommendations. The proposals included no guarantee of a wage increase—the object of the strike.

But in a meeting in a high school at Oak Ridge, a substantial majority of 900 strikers on hand registered in favor of going back to work. They did so on condition the union would sanction another walkout should further bargaining fail. The standing vote was not recorded.

Just before, union President Elwood Swisher had told them: "You are going to have to go back to work in less than 12 hours. You can either go back voluntarily, which I recommend, or by Taft-Hartley injunction—by being clubbed back by the very government you work for."

Promises Made
A presidential fact finding board has been collecting data on the strike, but was understood to have been holding up its report—which is necessary under the Taft-Hartley Act before an injunction can be sought—in order to give Mitchell and the union chiefs a chance to end the walkout on their own.

Mitchell's plan held out no hope for the workers to get more than a six cent hourly wage boost recommended several weeks ago by President Eisenhower's atomic labor panel. But it did promise a broad opportunity for labor unions to work out with the AEC improvements in housing, health and community facilities and in labor relations generally with all AEC contractors.

Ask 15-Cent Raise
Mitchell's proposal apparently contemplated that the 4,500 strikers—3,500 at Oak Ridge and 1,000 at Paducah—would either take the six-cent pay hike or try to get a greater increase in continued collective bargaining after returning to work.

An additional 4,500 AEC atomic workers at two other Oak Ridge plants, also operated by the Carbide and Chemicals Co. for the AEC, have likewise turned down the six cent increase proposal, but did not join the CIO strike.

The unions had demanded a minimum 15 cent hourly pay boost. Present scales range from $1.50 to $2.40 an hour.

BLINDED HELICOPTER
SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP)—Traffic came from all directions yesterday to cause a jam here.

The final touch was a Navy helicopter caught in a thunderstorm that landed smack in the middle of an intersection.

The pilot said he couldn't see in the storm.

40-DAY STRIKE ENDS
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Sixteen employees of the Laurel Line Co., a bus line, accepted an eight-cent-an-hour wage increase last night and ended a 40-day strike.

Company and union officials announced the employees also agreed to a contract calling for an additional 2 cents an hour in January if business conditions permit.

Service will be resumed tomorrow morning on the bus line which operates between Scranton and Pittston. Present wage scales were not disclosed.
